Superior Power

Curatronic 2000XP^{SE} Special Edition

Curatron 2000XP^{SE}

The Curatron 2000XP is the most popular Curatron model used by health care practitioners and home care therapy for informed individuals.

It is based on state-of-the-art technology generating Frequency Modulated Pulsed ElectroMagnetic Fields (PEMF). These fields are completely safe and cause no side effects. Curatron devices have undergone multiple scientific clinical trials worldwide. Tens of thousands of patients have been treated successfully with these systems. A high success percentage is reported, creating a dramatic improvement in the quality of life.

The Curatron 2000XP system increases peripheral oxygen pressure, activating and regenerating cells. Optimal oxygenation in the body is obtained by this professional, high-energy system, resulting in maximum therapeutic effect.

The Curatron 2000XP model excels in rapid pain reduction and has proven to be enormously beneficial for chronic pain therapy. People suffering from arthritis, fibromyalgia and back pain report almost instantaneous pain relief!

Bone and Cartilage Regeneration

Improved calcium transport increases the absorption of calcium in bones and improves the quality of cartilage in joints, decreasing pain dramatically. Substantial increase in bone density is obtained in cases of osteoporosis, which in turn decreases fracture risk. Bone growth is stimulated causing fractured bones to heal properly.

On the X-ray on the left, the distance between the bones is almost non-existent. After PEMF treatment, the X-ray on the right shows the distance between the bones has increased dramatically, the result of new cartilage generation between the bones. The outcome has been pain free walking for this 70-year-old female patient.

Real Therapeutic Effect

The Curatron 2000XP is the only economically priced computerized therapy device which uses frequency modulated pulsed electromagnetic field technology. It generates sufficient energy in combination with rapid speed of induction to obtain a measurable therapeutic effect. 10 Different therapy programs are readily available, allowing for ideal individual automatic parameter settings for the listed disorders.

The pulsed electromagnetic fields are applied to the body by means of multiple flat coils located inside a therapy pad. The coil is placed at the area to be treated and is hooked up to the Curatron unit via a flexible cable.

Easy to Use

The controls of the Curatron system are very user-friendly and simple to operate. Select a program number and press the start button and the complete therapy session will be performed automatically, under full control of the built-in computer. After the therapy time is over, the system switches to stand-by mode ensuring user safety while relaxing or sleeping.

Special Edition

The 2000XP Special Edition is upgraded to deliver the power of the 2000PC. It boosts the output of the mattress and coils to maximize the healing potential of the unit.

Enjoy life to the fullest with PEMF!

Health and Wellness are two of the most important things we can invest in. Without these every other aspect of our lives is diminished. People should be able to enjoy every day whether at work, school, or spending time with loved ones. However, each of us will face medical challenges in life, during which PEMF can help significantly.

Curatron's PEMF devices are designed to stimulate wellness by ensuring maximum blood flow, oxygenation, nutritional uptake, and detoxification. This allows the body to perform the tasks it was designed for. The goal of the manufacturer and the distributor of Curatron systems is to maximize health ensuring a superior quality of life to be experienced.

When disease and sickness occur,

PEMF energy medicine can play a major supporting role, assisting the body's built in defense and repair mechanisms to perform with optimal efficiency.

Curatron has developed its series of devices to deliver effective doses of energy medicine. It has worked with doctors to build program settings designed to address specific conditions. In some cases the affected organs are targeted, energizing the body to speed recovery and repair.
